

MIT | Arts, Commerce & Science College

ACADEMIC YEAR (2023-24)

DEPARTEMENT OF ARTS AND COMMERCE

REPORT ON

The One Day State Level Symposium on Application Indian Knowledge System (IKS) in the Field of Social Science and Humanities

Date: August 26, 2023

Venue: Seminar Hall

Time-9.30 to 5.00pm

The One Day State Level Symposium on the Application of Indian Knowledge System (IKS) in the field of Social Sciences and Humanities, held on August 26, 2023, at the Seminar Hall, witnessed an enlightening exploration of our rich cultural heritage and its relevance in modern education.

Objective of the Symposium:

- To promote and inculcate the Indian Knowledge system (IKS) among the Teaching and research fraternity.
- To explore the contribution of Indian Knowledge system in the field of Humanities.
- To explore the contribution of Indian Knowledge system in the field of Social Sciences.
- To nurture and enhance the spirit of Indian knowledge system.

The symposium, organized under the guidance of Principal Dr.B.B.Waphare who provided a platform for scholars and enthusiasts to delve into the profound wisdom embedded in our Indian Knowledge Systems.

Welcome Address: Prof. Akshada Kulkarni, in her warm welcome address, highlighted the significance of this symposium in bridging the gap between tradition and modernity in education.

The symposium commenced with a keynote address by the esteemed Dr. Bhujang Bobade, who emphasized the imperative of implementing IKS in the field of Social Sciences and Humanities. His address set the stage for a day of insightful discussions.

Speech by Guest: Mr. Sandip Dhikale's speech on the "Outline & Research in the Indian Knowledge System" provided valuable insights into the research initiatives currently underway in the domain of Vote of Thanks of I session - Dr. Padmavati Undale, the convener of the event, expressed gratitude to all participants and set a tone of unity and collaboration for the day's proceedings.

After a brief lunch break, the symposium continued with Session II:

Commencement of Program: Prof. Diksha Kadam, the event coordinator, began the session with opening remarks and an IKS video presentation, offering attendees a visual glimpse into the depth of Indian knowledge.

Speech BY Guest : Dr. Ganesh Raut's talk on "सामाजिक शास्त्रांमधील भारतीय ज्ञान परंपरा व नवनिर्मिती: विशेष संदर्भ इतिहास" (Indian Knowledge Tradition in Social Sciences and the Process of Renewal: A Special Historical Context) delved into the historical context of IKS in social sciences.

Discussion Forum: An engaging discussion forum allowed participants to exchange ideas, question, and further their understanding of the relevance of IKS in contemporary social sciences and humanities.

Following a refreshing tea break, the symposium entered its Valedictory Session:

Speech by Guest: Mr. Bhujang R. Bobade delivered a thought-provoking speech on "Integration of Indian Knowledge System through Curriculum Design," highlighting the practical steps required to incorporate IKS into our education system.

Certificate Distribution: Certificates were distributed to acknowledge the active participation of attendees, speakers, and organizers.

Vote of Thanks: Dr. Manasi Atitkar, Vice Principal of the College expressed heartfelt thanks to all participants, sponsors, and supporters, underlining the importance of such symposiums in nurturing a deeper understanding of our cultural heritage and its application in modern education.

Each and Every member of Arts and Commerce Department involved enthusiastically for making this event successful. Attendance of all the faculties of the college was the remarkable thing. The whole program was anchored by Dr.Archana Aher flawlessly. Students from FY,SY,and TYBcom also took part in this event voluntarily.

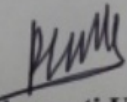

Total Participant – 132 Students from Various streams

Faculty Participants- 18 from various corners of the state.

Total -149 150

Prof. Diksha Kadam

Co-Ordinator

Dr. Padmavati Undale

Convener & HOD Arts /Commerce

Dr. B.B. Waphare

Principal

